

National Physician Survey, 2007. Results for Clinical Specialists - Internal Medicine.

Q10. Please specify other degree(s).

Among all Internal Clinical Specialists: Twenty percent of physicians indicated that they have another degree(s). Sixteen percent have a PhD. Forty-two percent have a Masters of Science/Masters of Health Science (MHSc)/Masters in epidemiology or biostatistics or community health/Masters in Health Administration (MHA)/MPA/MHSA/MPH/MHCM/MMed/MCLSc.

Notes:

The responding sample (size: n) has been weighted to represent the population (size: N). Further detail available at www.nationalphysiciansurvey.ca.